Guide to Manuscript Submission

Submission to the ACM Transactions on Cyber-Physical Systems is done electronically through https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/tcps. Once you are at that site, you can create an account and password with which you can enter the ACM Manuscript Central manuscript review tracking system. Proceed to the Author Center to submit your manuscript and your accompanying files.

You will be asked to create an abstract that will be used throughout the system as a synopsis of your paper. You will also be asked to classify your submission using the ACM Computing Classification System through a link provided at the Author Center. For completeness, please select at least one primary-level classification followed by two secondary-level classifications. To make the process easier, you may cut and paste from the list. Remember, you, the author, know best which area and sub-areas are covered by your paper; in addition to clarifying the area where your paper belongs, classification often helps in quickly identifying suitable reviewers for your paper. So it is important that you provide as thorough a classification of your paper as possible.

The ACM Production Department prefers that your manuscript be prepared in either LaTeX or MS Word format. Style files for manuscript preparation can be obtained at the following location: https://www.acm.org/publications/authors/submissions. For editorial review, the manuscript should be submitted as a PDF or Postscript file. Accompanying material can be in any number of text or image formats, as well as software/documentation bundles in zip or tar-gzipped formats.

Questions regarding editorial review process should be directed to the Editors-in-Chief. Questions regarding the post-acceptance production process should be addressed to the Associate Director of Publications, Sara Kate Heukerott, at heukerott@hq.acm.org.

Ceasing Print Publication of ACM Journals and Transactions

ACM has made the decision to cease print publication for ACM's journals and transactions as of January 2024. There were several motivations for this change: ACM wants to be as environmentally friendly as possible; print journals lack the new features and functionality of the electronic versions in the ACM Digital Library; and print subscriptions, which have been declining for years, have now reached a level where the time was right to sunset print.

About ACM. ACM is the world's largest educational and scientific computing society, uniting educators, researchers and professionals to inspire dialogue, share resources and address the field's challenges. ACM strengthens the computing profession's collective voice through strong leadership, promotion of the highest standards, and recognition of technical excellence. ACM supports the professional growth of its members by providing opportunities for life-long learning, career development, and professional networking.
